

Aurora Le, MPH, CPH

Academic Specialist in Environmental Health Indiana University School of Public Health-Bloomington

Ms. Aurora Le is an academic specialist in Environmental Health at Indiana University School of Public Health-Bloomington. As project coordinator and education specialist, Ms. Le develops and organizes course content for BIDTI. She also supports research activities for the National Ebola Training and Education Center and is author of a peer-reviewed article on Ebola treatment centers in the U.S. She holds a master's degree from University of Nebraska Medical Center and a certified in public health credential from the National Board of Public Health Examiners.