

Janelle Rios, MPH, PhD

Director of the Office of Public Health Practice
The University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston (UTHealth)
Janelle.Rios@uth.tmc.edu

Dr. Janelle Rios is director of the Office of Public Health Practice and a faculty associate in Epidemiology, Human Genetics, and Environmental Sciences at UTHealth School of Public Health. As contact principal investigator for the Texas-Utah Consortium for Hazardous Waste Worker Training (Texas-Utah Consortium) and UTHealth lead consortium investigator for the Biosafety and Infectious Disease Training Initiative (BIDTI), Dr. Rios oversees all administrative and program activities for P2R Academy. With a master's degree in public health and a doctorate in public health management and policy science, she has over 10 years of environmental health experience in a regulatory setting.

Her academic interests include environmental sciences, management, ethics, emergency preparedness, and adult teaching techniques. Before assuming leadership of the Office of Health Practice, Dr. Rios served as deputy director and director of continuing education and outreach for the Southwest Center for Occupational and Environmental Health.