

Nancy Crider, DrPH, RN

Assistant Professor at UTHealth School of Nursing
The University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston (UTHealth)

Dr. Nancy Crider is an assistant professor at UTHealth School of Nursing and an instructor for BIDTI. A registered nurse with doctorate in public health management and policy science, Dr. Crider has been involved in workforce development and emergency preparedness efforts for more than 30 years. She has served in a number of leadership positions in hospitals, ambulatory care, and community health services. As program manager of the Texas Public Health Training Center from 2005-2013, Dr. Crider worked closely with the University of Texas Center for Biosecurity and Public Health Preparedness and the Southwest Center for Occupational and Environmental Health to develop and present emergency preparedness, environmental, and occupational health programs.